(Special Correspondent).

WASHINGTON. April 20.—To two Southern surfess. Louisians and North Carolina, the National Woman's party is looking for ratification of the surfrage amendment in the event Delaware fails, through its legislature, to become the badly needed thirty-sixth state to ratify on May 5. At headquarters here it is confidently predicted that one if not all three of the states to act before the summer is over, will come through with the action necessary to the enfranchisement of women throughout the United States in time for the presidential election.

Vigorous campaigns are being waged in both Louisiana and North Carolina by the suffrage forces looking to the possibility of defeat in Delaware. The Louisiana legislature convenes on May ind, and many intomal leaters are rampaigning with the state workers Mior ratification. Should the fight prove suffle there the battle ground will be shifted to North Carolina, where the prospects of success at present look bright. This fight, however, can not come to a conclusion until July, by which time suffrage leaders hope to have won their fight in one of the other two states.

A poll of the North Carolina legisla-

Il non-committal and only 11 definitely opposed, out of a fotal of 50 legislators answering the questionnaire.
